51 YEARS OLD — NILES, CALIFORNIA FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1939 — No. 25

AROUND the TOWNSHIP

Jimmie Cull probably celebrated Father's Day with more pride than any other father in Niles. A son was born at the East Oakland Hospital about 10 o'clock Sunday night and will bear the name of William Harold. Mrs. Cull and the baby are progressing favorably.

* * * *

One of the most unpopular days of the whole year in Europe passed quietly last week. All the nations, save two, managed to keep their eyes closed tight to avoid looking at the calendar. The date: June 15. The reason: War debts. Our hope of collecting them: zero.

* * * *

Drought and various forms of adversity, with crop failure and work scarce were conditions encountered in parts of the dust bowl in Kansas on a trip recently completed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Decoto.

Brighter reports from the month's tour were the rare privilege of visiting Brown's boyhood home at Mt. Vernon, Mo., former homes in Trego County and Topeka, Kansas, and relatives in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Eastern Kansas and at Springfield, Mo., with stopovers at Denver, Colo. and Salt Lake City.

On every hand, Mr. and Mrs. Brown were impressed with the comparative comfort and prosperity of their present "Home, Sweet Home", at Decoto, Calif.

"California Horticulture" is the title of the catalog just issued by the California Nursery Company of Niles. The book is a beautiful piece of work, with the Old Adobe reproduced to form the front and back covers in colors, from an oil painting.

The principal feature of catalog, perhaps, is "The Gardens of the Exposition", a 16 page section of gravure reproductions of 52 art prints taken from the actual portions of the Golden Gate International Exposition at Treasure Island.

It is truly a worthy theme used in a worthy manner. Congratulations to George C. Roeding, Jr., who heads the nursery company.

The boys hold an election at the start of the "school", selecting officials for State, county and city administration. For the rest of the week they learn, through actual practice, how Government affairs are handled.

Speaker Urges Use Of Surplus Crops To Cut Relief Spending

NILES — An enlightening and interesting discussion of the Triple A program in agriculture was given by C. F. Fray, regional supervisor for the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, at last week's meeting of the Niles Rotary Club at the Hotel Belvoir.

He based his remarks upon the theory that the prosperity of the farmer regulates the prosperity of all business and that a nation's well being is in direct ratio to the well being of its farmers.

A national outlook should be had, he said. Poor cotton farmers of the south cannot buy California lettuce and dried apricots. He discussed soil and range conservation showing that soil depletion was evident even in California; weed control, development of springs, wells and dams to insure good grazing, loans, parity payments, market quotas and crop insurance.

He dwelt particularly upon farm surpluses, giving the following as some of the reasons for this situation which has resulted in loss of profit to the farmer. The farmer only wants production cost plus a profit to insure the average standard of decent American living, he said.

Among the factors contributing to surplus products on the market, he said, are the following:

Breaking of new lands during the reconstruction period after the war, disappearance of the need for the 30 million acres devoted to grazing and feeding horses and mules now not used because of modern machinery; modernization of farm machinery making it possible to farm more land in less time; nationalization of other countries who are trying to raise all their own food stuffs and depleting exports from this country;

Investment of American capital in Southern American agricultural programs; the diet-conscious public which cuts down on use of wheat and other fattening foods, quotas on immigrants lessening number of consumers; birth control also lessening number of consumers; the back to the farm movement resulting in more farmers; increased production because of activities of 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers. These two last are beneficial movements, he said, but nevertheless do put more produce on the market.

Industry can control its output by shutting down factories if there is an over supply, he said, but farmers are expected to plant all their acres and in case of a bumper crop to dump it all on the market and take what price they can.

He advocated use of the surplus in feeding the needy in lieu of relief funds which may be spent for other things than food. If there is an over supply of oranges you can't expect the farmer to pay freight and send them to market to sell at a losing price, he said. So the oranges have to be dumped in spite of the fact that there are many in this country who haven't money to buy oranges.

Distribution of oranges to the needy as has been tried out in Rochester and is being tried out this week in Dayton, Ohio, may prove to be the solution to this part of the problem.

J. A. MacDonald was chairman of the day.

New School Building Cited As Urgent Need In Alviso District

CENTERVILLE — Citizens of the Alviso Grammar School voted to build a new three-room school to cost approximately $20,000 at a mass meeting held at the school last Friday night. The vote was unanimous, no dissenting opinion having been expressed.

A citizens' committee to confer with the board which consists of M. P. Rose, Joe Luiz and Mamie Roderick, includes Claremond Secada, who acted as chairman of the meeting, Frank Duarte, Clarence Rose, Arthur Soito and William Andrade.

The chief speaker was J. L. Bunker of the County superintendent's office who said he did not wish to influence residents of the district in their decision as to whether to repair the old building or construct a new one but his personal opinion was that a new building would be preferable.

A minimum of $7,000 would be necessary to repair the building which has been condemned because of earthquake hazard and damage by termites, this figure probably to be increased when thorough investigation is made. The present arrangement also calls for one class in the auditorium which is not satisfactory, according to Mrs. Elsie Madruga, principal.

It was estimated that a $15,000 bond issue would increase the district's school tax about 16 cents. The committee and the board will decide whether to let the job to a private contractor or to seek WPA aid.

SUDDEN DEATH

California rang up an unenviable record for itself a week end ago: 35 persons killed in traffic accidents within 48 hours!

Even holiday weekends have failed to match that startling toll of life and destruction on the highways which, it is believed, set an all time high.

What is more tragic and senseless, many of those 35 were doubtless sacrificed just to win an argument with another car. By exercising a few rules of courtesy, motorists could have prevented these disasters.

When some driver insists on "hogging" the right of way, let him have it.

When a driver tries to pass you and misjudges the space available, drop back and let him into line.

When some driver foolishly tries to pass you on a hill or curve, drop back and let him into line.

Be prepared for the driver, to the right or left, who tries to "run the yellow" at the stop light. Give him the road.

If an approaching driver, in passing other cars, has difficulty in getting back into his own lane, slow down for him.

If a driver behind you is over-anxious to get around you, pull over and let him go on his way.

Sure, such generosity toward selfish, stupid drivers, goes against the grain. But it saves lives! It's such courtesy that has played an impressive role in helping motor carriers establish their high safety records. The National Safety Council's report shows a 19 per cent decline in traffic fatalities during 1938, but commercial carriers under I. C. C. jurisdiction chalked up a 30 per cent drop—a record of skill and courtesy at the wheel that speaks for itself.

Last year California cut traffic fatalities to the lowest number since 1933. It's not too late to better that record this year. Let's do it!

"I thought I knew all about automobiles!"

A LOT of folks have had their eyes opened wide by a ride in a 1939 Ford V-8. They just didn't realize how much more value and how many improvements we've put in this car the last few years.

Today's advanced Ford is a product of progressive engineering, fine materials and honest construction. It is backed by an experience of building far more cars than anybody else in the world.

One ride in today's Ford — with its smooth 8-cylinder engine, stabilized chassis, hydraulic brakes — will prove it's the modern car in the low-price field.

PORTRAIT OF A PAYING PASSENGER
(She's El Dorado Fed)

Some cows are "free riders"—they seem to eat plenty, but when the cream-checks are added up, they haven't paid their way.

But cows fed with El Dorado Coconut Meal (20% to 40% of the ration) are "paying passengers." Experts have a lot of reasons for this—not only the amount but also the kind of proteins—and so on—but the thing that counts is whether or not the herd is profitable, and each cow in it.

And El Dorado-fed herds have a record of being profitable! It's the "plus" that makes ordinary cows into "paying passengers"!

El Dorado pours hundreds of thousands of dollars a year into the coffers of California agriculture, through its purchases of California flax and peanuts—industries pioneered and fostered by El Dorado. So your purchases of El Dorado Feed Concentrates recognize this aid to farming in California.
